For the News
The Song of a Cloud.

"I come, I come, from my mountain home,
I come from the vale and the glen,
With stores collected whence'er I roam,
To scatter them downward again."

"I wander round on my wayward road,
In search of the noxious and sweet,
And carry them over the earth abroad,
To lay them wherever it meet."

"I take the sweets from the flowers' cup,
I gather from all as I go—
From poisonous bloom with the bee I sup,
And I drink of the river's flow."

"I take from the pool and the stagnant pen—
From the briny scum of the sea,
From the noxious weeds in the dismal glen,
And the mouldering trunk of the tree."

"And mingling, I mix them all in one—
The pure with the bitter and vile,
And send them down in a wizard boon,
To cover the earth with a smile."

"For in my course as I long I rush
And sprinkle the rain on their face,
The roses' blush wears a brighter flush,
And the lilies a purer grace."

"And the dahlia rears her queenly head
More gracefully still as I flow,
And the lilies and the humblest weed
More beautifully flourish and grow."

"I touch the sod and its grass is green,
And the corn swells more full in the ear;
And brighter leaves on the oak are seen,
Than so late was drooping and sear."

"I bow down the lily's head in the night,
But I drop in her eye the while
A tear so bright that it turns all to light,
And her sorrow is lost in a smile."

Again in darkness and dread I come,
And now in most terrible form—
With angry look and the brow of doom—
In lightning and in storm."

"I hide the sun as I lower
O'er plains and forests wide,
I rend the pine with my fearful power,
And shatter the oak in his pride."

"But when my stroke in its wrath descends
And lightning and ruin are seen,
Some richer blessing in time attends
In lieu of the loss that has been;

And more and more as my store supplies
The parched and the thirsty land,
New beauties rise to the gaze's eyes
At the touch of my magic wand."

Then, mortals! learn, in your hapless mood,
This beautiful truth, if you will—
THERE'S EVER A DASH OF EVIL IN GOOD,
AND THERE'S SOMETHING OF GOOD IN ILL.

Some sweet from the bitter may be expressed
In the noxious some charm may lie,
And poison lurks in the Jesamine's breast,
Tho' sweet be her smile to the eye.

So the choicest blessings that ever fell
In the path by mortals trod,
May be signs of sorrow, and tears of gall
That lead through trials to God.

A. W. BOURDILLON.
Certificate From Esqr. Campbell.
BRISTOL, Oct. 17th 1878.
HON. JAMES C. HAYNES:
Dear Sir—Yours of the 15th to hand, contents noted.
As to the charge of Col. Wilson that I am a candidate for Congress in the interest of Col. Richmond, and to split the McMullin vote, it is without shadow of foundation in truth, and utterly false.
I became a candidate before the Wytheville Convention came off, as can be shown by a paragraph published in the Bristol News about that time. I am a candidate of my own choice, I never conferred with any one, before I became a candidate, I knew nothing of Col. Richmond, personally, until I met him at Wytheville on the 14th of this month, and then and there, we introduced ourselves, each to the other for the first time we met in our lives.
I am a candidate to represent the intelligent and poor people of the 9th Congressional district, not only before Congress, but before every branch of the government of the United States, which has heretofore been grossly neglected.
Very truly I am your ob't serv't.
CHAS. C. CAMPBELL.

WASHINGTON COUNTY TO-WIT:
Personally appeared before the undersigned, acting Mayor of the town of Goodson, Chas. C. Campbell, and made oath in due form of law, that the facts set forth above, relating to Col. Thomas Wilson's charge made against him, together with the rest of the documents, is strictly true to the letter.
Given under my hand the 17th day of Oct. 1878. JOHN F. TERRY, Mayor.

tion gives a mild, soft, yet brilliant light, pleasing to the eye, clear, steady, and without blemish, and at a cost less than one-third of that required for gas. Those who have seen the invention pronounce it wonderful.

Already a company has been formed, composed of a number of wealthy capitalists, and Mr. Edison's lawyers are engaged in completing the final arrangements for the legal transfer. Before long, therefore, the work of introduction will begin. The patents for the United States have only just been granted, while those for the various countries of Europe have not yet been obtained. To-day the Professor's solicitors send by steamer the necessary documents to their London agents for the procurement of the British letters patent. The French and other patents will be applied for simultaneously with the English one. When word is cabled Mr. Edison that the patents have been granted he will throw his invention open to the public gaze, but until then he declines to make known its details, his recent controversy with Prof. Hughes over the alleged stealing of the microphone having made him cautious.

THE PROPOSED SYSTEM.

A Herald reporter learned yesterday the system proposed to be adopted after the patents are all granted. First the Professor will light up all the houses in Menlo Park gratis, and from his laboratory watch the light's progress from night to night. When all is in readiness for general introduction central stations will probably be established throughout New York city, each station controlling a territory of perhaps a radius of half a mile. In the central stations will be the magneto-electric generating machines run by engines. Wires will then be run in iron pipes under the ground, after the manner of gas pipes, connecting with dwelling, stores, theatres, and other places to be lighted. The gas fixtures at present used, instead of being removed, will be utilized to encase the wire. In the place of the burner will be the invention, and meters will be used to register the quantity of electricity consumed. Their form is not yet determined upon. The light is to be of the bat-wing, fifteen candle power character. To light it a little spring is touched, and instantly the electricity does its work. The amount of light can be regulated in the same way as that from gas. To turn off the light the spring is again touched, and instantly all is darkness. No matches being used, and there being no flame, all the dangers incident to the use of gas are obviated. The light gives out no heat. It is simply a pure white light, made dim or brilliant at the fancy of the person using it.

To the Public!

THE undersigned having gone into a co-partnership with Messrs. A. L. CORNBERT and C. DORIO, the style of the firm will be Doriot & Co. We have brought to this place all the latest and most approved appliances for extra-fine watch making and repairing, together with the best talent and skill in the American, French, and Swiss improvements. r. Cornbert ranks with the first Watch makers in the United States. We have appliances to adjust watches to heat and cold. We flatter ourselves that we can do watch work better than the best of other shops throughout the country. All damaged parts of watches will be taken out and replaced with perfect parts. In many cases our finely repaired watches will be made better than new. Formerly, J. Cornbert was entrusted with the first-class of work in New York City.

Our assertion will be proven by giving us a trial. We will still keep a fine class of goods—everything that is kept in a first-class Jewelry Store. Watches as cheap as the cheapest, and warranted. Our sincere thanks to the public for the very liberal patronage in the past. We hope to always merit a share of the same by fair dealing with all. Bear in mind our talent is not yet exhausted.

V. DORIO.

N. B.—Mr. C. Doriot being extra-fine Watchmaker, as well as Watch-Maker, will make to order any new machinery of the finest quality, or repair old machinery. Will undertake new designs or new machinery for inventors.
